

LIGHT OF LIFE

A water level is symbol of life in this city. Santa Monica need water to impart people and people need to involve in saving water by generate the light of life.

Santa Monica city is facing a drought. Policy of using water is strictly for any house that over use water will have to pay a fine. Same as electricity the town encourage people to use it less and support renewable energy.

Because of that, drought is the main problem of Santa Monica. So the design should focus on desalination. Today a cost and a construction of desalination method that we using is high. Reverse osmosis method or high temperature method is not considered in this site. Sustainable design is not only generating or create something but “to remove” of “to decrease” consuming energy in design is also the same thing and not just “build something beautiful”.
