

This is a perspective view from a Kayakers point of view. One can see the elegant curves and change in elevation. Floating Wetlands are perceived in a closer perspective.

The image above depicts an isometric view of the boating deck and the art structure. A perspective of scale can be obtained from this angle.

A birds eye view of the proposed installation is illustrated in this image. The full form and moving curves are depicted in contrast to the ocean.

An overview of the installation and the systems is depicted. The image shows the systems being activated and it also depicts the context of the site.