

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE

- Phasable
The unit pairing of the energy buoy to the sail allow for the installation to be constructed in phases. The installation can start small and grow over time.
- Desalination
As technology progresses it is possible that the art installation could power a desalination unit. This would provide Santa Monica with clean drinking water from a renewable resource.
- Useable Space
The wooden platform could be booked for events, small groups or individual use.
- MPA
The site could act as an international Marine Protected Area where no fishing is allowed.
- Interactive
A mobile application could be created that allows the user to track the amount of energy being harnessed and change the colors on the sails lights.

CATCHING THE WAVE