

FOUR FISH

Faunal flow is little obstructed, since the installation is focused right on top of the existing water break. The deck floor is located above the water break in order to minimize shadows on the ocean. Environmental awareness by man's connection with Nature forces producing fresh water is the main point of the project.

view from northwest