

A new object comes from the ocean, it seems an aquatic forest which hosts a hidden footbridge system. It is here where the magic happens. You can walk in this mysterious "green path" and admiring the breathless view or take a sunbath or why not have fun on a water slide! The access areas to the sea are secured by a safety grid representing the swimming boundaries. The "forest" is made up of 770 polycarbonate sword (diameter 25 cm). They raise out of the water about 36 meters high and their shape reminds the CHAINWORD plant, a particular aquatic plant with tight and long sheet.
