

U.S.S. Solar at Dusk

At night LED floodlights will light up the ship using part of the energy generated during the day. The ship will look like it is sitting in the water. The rest of the energy will be sent to the energy grid and used locally

