

sky + music + fountain + water

It is a beautiful day.

Sun, sky, sea, music, sprays of water.

You walk towards the end of the pier.

There is a little girl playing what looks like an organ.

It is a new thing. Newly installed.

The sound came from the pipes erected in the in middle of the sea.

The sound is like a choir of dolphins and whales.

It echoes across the sea to the beach.

The sprays of water is beautiful.

Its directions always changing.
